State Representative

Chuck has been generous with his time to the Simsbury ABC program over the years, helping the Board to grapple with leadership and growth issues at critical times. His warmth, humor and acute insightfulness fostered open communication and collaboration as board members worked with him as a team to strengthen their team style and reach strategic goals.

Chuck's facilitation skills are both gentle and forthright, guiding people to generate ideas and solutions they can own and eliciting consensus, while still subtly shaping the outcome to be the one most likely to produce desired results.

We're very grateful for Chuck's contributions to the program!

Chuck Wolfe has opened our eyes to the power of self awareness, understanding and managing emotions. Given the fact that MPTN is a family first, the planning and problem solving processes we employ must be emotionally based. We are already employing what we are learning and have found that being more emotionally intelligent has increased our effectiveness in our relationships and with key initiatives such as strategic planning and the balanced scorecard. There is no doubt that with the guidance of Chuck Wolfe, MPTN is on the path to emotional and intellectual growth.

I thoroughly enjoy working with Chuck Wolfe, and would recommend him highly as an Executive Coach. He is very perceptive, highly intelligent, and an expert on the nuances of Emotional Intelligence, and how an understanding of these can create meaningful solutions to real world challenges. His assistance has made a positive impact on my performance, as well as improving my understanding of those with whom I work.

I highly recommend Chuck Wolfe as an excellent Executive Coach. He has been very instrumental in helping us manage change, build our team, and manage our talent. We have hired Chuck to be an Executive Coach for many Members of our senior team, including myself, and the progress has been great. In addition we have used Chuck in larger and smaller settings with working groups of middle management personnel. Again, the results have been excellent. All of us at AIG American General that have worked with Chuck have personally benefited and we highly recommend him to you.
